AS DelfinGroup is a Latvian fintech company holding a consumer lending licence issued by the Consumer Rights Protection Centre (PTAC in Latvian). Established in 2009, the company currently operates in Latvia, Lithuania, and Romania. In addition to operating under the DelfinGroup brand, the company also conducts business through the Banknote and VIZIA brands. AS DelfinGroup has operated profitably every year since 2010 and has been a listed company since 2021. In 2020, a dividend distribution policy was approved, providing for regular quarterly dividend payments of 50% of the previous quarter's profit. The company continuously develops and offers consumer lending services, unsecured loans, short term and long-term pawn loans, and the sale of pre-owned, slightly used, and new goods through more than 80 branches across Latvia, as well as online.

This voluntary share buyback transaction represents the first transaction of this scale in the Latvian capital market. Through the transaction, INDEXO aims to increase the value of both groups by combining their respective strengths and complementary business lines. INDEXO holds strong positions in the pension market alongside the rapidly growing INDEXO Banka, while DelfinGroup operates a well-established consumer lending business supported by an extensive branch network. Significant synergy potential is expected across product portfolio development, marketing, and funding. The transaction also provides clear financial benefits to both parties. By acquiring a majority stake in AS DelfinGroup, INDEXO will gain access to a recurring dividend stream, supporting the accelerated growth of AS INDEXO Banka through reinvestment into lending and development. At the same time, DelfinGroup will gain access to substantially lower cost funding, strengthening its financial performance and enabling further growth opportunities.

Following settlement of the voluntary share buyback offer for AS DelfinGroup on 15 December 2025, IPAS INDEXO acquired 67.42% of the total voting share capital of AS DelfinGroup. After completion of the voluntary buyback settlement on 15 December 2025, the management of IPAS INDEXO determined a convenience date of 31 December 2025, practically, this means that although actual control was obtained on 15 December 2025, for financial reporting purposes DelfinGroup AS and its subsidiaries are consolidated starting from 31 December 2025. Accordingly, the statement of comprehensive income of DelfinGroup AS for 2025 is not consolidated; only the balance sheet is consolidated. This decision was made considering practical considerations related to transaction accounting, as well as the need to ensure completeness and comparability of financial information. Management concluded that the net impact of the transaction on consolidated profit or loss for the period from 15 December 2025 to 31 December 2025 was immaterial, amounting to a net profit of EUR 607 thousand.

At the acquisition date, the fair value of the identifiable net assets was assessed. As a result, fair value adjustments were recognised for the following asset classes:

1) Loans and receivables from customers – The fair value of loans and receivables from customers was determined using a discounted cash flow approach. The valuation model is based on projected contractual cash flows derived from the actual terms of loan agreements, taking into account scheduled amortisation over the repayment period and expected future interest payments over the contractual life of the loans. A discount rate of 18% was applied in the valuation. This rate reflects the yield required by market participants for the acquisition of a comparable loan portfolio at the acquisition date, considering the following risk components:

- risk-free rate;
- uncertainty and volatility exceeding ECL assumptions;

- liquidity and marketability risk;
- operational risk;
- collection and recovery risk.

When modelling expected future cash flows, the calculations also incorporated early loan repayments, the volume of which was determined based on the historically observed share of early repayments in DelfinGroup's existing portfolio, as well as on reasonable assumptions regarding borrowers' future behaviour, taking into account the specifics of DelfinGroup's operations, a more competitive lending environment and a conservative modelling approach, as early repayment risk may materially affect portfolio revenue projections.

Credit risk was modelled by applying stage-specific probability of default (PD) assumptions to each credit stage. PD levels were determined based on the structure of the DelfinGroup portfolio and historically observed default rates. For Stage 1 exposures, PD assumptions were conservatively adjusted upward, reflecting the currently low default environment in Latvia and the expectation of a potential deterioration in borrowers' creditworthiness over the longer term. Loss given default (LGD) assumptions were determined primarily based on historical loss experience observed when borrowers reached default status, adjusted where necessary to reflect current market trends and recovery expectations.

2) Intangible assets - For valuation purposes, intangible assets were classified into two categories: internally developed software assets and other intangible assets. Both internally developed software and other intangible assets were valued using a discounted cash flow (DCF) approach. Within the discounting process, projected cost development was used as a key valuation input. The primary assumption applied relates to expected growth in employee compensation costs, reflecting the ongoing development, enhancement, and maintenance requirements of the respective intangible assets. For internally developed software assets, salary growth assumptions applicable to information technology professionals employed within the financial services industry were used, applying an annual growth rate of 5.0%. For other intangible assets, salary growth assumptions applicable to the broader information technology sector were applied, using an annual growth rate of 5.9%. The compensation growth benchmarks were derived from market data compiled by Figure Baltic Advisory. The applied valuation methodology reflects the expected cost dynamics and prevailing market conditions relevant to the continued development and maintenance of the respective intangible assets.

In addition to the asset classes described above, other assets were also assessed as part of the purchase price allocation, including the following:

1) The revaluation of AS DelfinGroup real estate properties was performed using two valuation approaches. Under the first approach, data from the Arco Real Estate 2024 real estate market report was used, reflecting current market trends and price levels. Under the second approach, the cadastral universal valuation was applied, where the standard adjustment coefficient of 0.8 was replaced with a coefficient of 1.0 to better reflect the fair value of the real estate as at the reporting date. Based on the results obtained from both approaches, the differences were assessed as immaterial, and therefore no fair value adjustment was recognised in the financial statements.

2) AS DelfinGroup performs regular fair value remeasurement of inventories; therefore, no additional revaluation was performed at the acquisition date.

Fair value recognition result:

| Share of net assets at fair value attributable to non-controlling interests (32.58%) | - | - | 18 898 |

Minority shareholders' participation, representing the non-controlling interest, is recognised and presented in the financial statements using the fair value method at the acquisition date. Accordingly, the non-controlling interest is measured at fair value, including its attributable share of the acquiree's net assets at fair value.

Fair value of the transaction:

| | '000 EUR |
|---|---|
| Share swap | 35 820 |
| Voluntary share buyback | 3 167 |
| Total consideration transferred | 38 987 |
| Fair value of net assets attributable to IPAS INDEXO (67.42%) | 39 104 |
| Gain on bargain purchase | 117 |

As a result of the voluntary offer, as of 31 December 2025 IPAS INDEXO had acquired 30 643 883 shares of AS DelfinGroup, representing 67.42% of the total voting share capital of DelfinGroup. Of this, 62.06% was acquired through the share swap and 5.36% through cash settlement. At the time of completion of the transaction, DelfinGroup's market capitalisation was approximately EUR 59 million (total number of DelfinGroup shares 45 448 915 multiplied by their share price on 15 December EUR 1.30).

The gain on bargain purchase recognised in the amount of EUR 117 thousand reflects the difference between the consideration transferred by IPAS INDEXO and the fair value of the identifiable net assets of AS DelfinGroup attributable to the acquired ownership interest. This relatively small difference, representing approximately 0.3% of the transaction value, indicates that the transaction price did not materially differ from the assessed fair value of DelfinGroup. The combination was therefore executed at a price that appropriately reflected market participants' view of the company's value at the acquisition date. The bargain purchase gain primarily arose from the fact that a significant portion of the shares was acquired through a share swap, reflecting investor confidence in the future growth prospects of the enlarged INDEXO Group and shareholders' willingness to participate in the Group's further development.

The gain on bargain purchase has been recognised in the Consolidated and Company Statements of Comprehensive Income under the line item "Gain on bargain purchase."

IPAS VAIRO

Following approval from the Bank of Latvia, on 19 September 2025 IPAS INDEXO acquired IPAS VAIRO ("VAIRO"), obtaining 100% of VAIRO's shares. The total consideration amounted to EUR 1.45 million, of which EUR 580 000 was paid in cash and EUR 870 000 was contributed as a noncash contribution to IPAS VAIRO. As a result of the transaction, IPAS VAIRO was included in the INDEXO Group, and VAIRO's pension investment plans continue to operate without changes.

IPAS VAIRO is an investment management company managing Latvian second pillar pension plans. At the acquisition date, 13 084 clients had entrusted more than EUR 89 million in pension assets to IPAS VAIRO.
The integration of VAIRO into the INDEXO Group represents a positive development for VAIRO's clients and for the Latvian financial sector. Through this transaction, INDEXO further strengthens its position as a locally owned financial services group serving Latvian residents.

The investment is consistent with INDEXO's strategy to expand its range of financial services and build a strong domestic capital financial group, reinforcing its position in the Latvian second pillar pension market.

Control over IPAS VAIRO was obtained on 19 September 2025. For financial reporting purposes, a convenience date of 30 September 2025 was applied. This decision was made taking into account the practical considerations of transaction accounting, as well as the need to ensure completeness and comparability of financial information.

* Profit of IPAS VAIRO for the period from 1 October 2025 to 31 December 2025 attributable to the IPAS INDEXO consolidation group.

At the acquisition date, the fair value of the identifiable net assets was assessed. As of 30 September 2025, the net assets of IPAS VAIRO amounted to EUR 216 thousand, primarily consisting of cash and cash equivalents of EUR 222 thousand, which approximate fair value and were recognised at that amount. As IPAS VAIRO operates as an investment management company, a separate intangible asset, "Contractual customer agreements," was recognised at acquisition. These represent legally binding, transferable agreements with clients in respect of specific second pension pillar investment plans. The fair value of this intangible asset at the acquisition date amounted to EUR 1 234 thousand and was determined using a discounted cash flow method. The valuation was based on management assumptions regarding:

- customer attrition (IPAS VAIRO historically had the highest attrition rate in the market; in the first-year attrition was assumed at approximately 20%, gradually declining in the long term to 10%, slightly above the market average),
- retirement assumptions (a retirement model was developed; more than 80% of IPAS VAIRO clients are aged 45 or younger, therefore retirement age had a limited short-term impact, however it remains a critical variable for overall model accuracy),
- contribution rates (5%, assuming no legislative changes; in Latvia, contributions to the state funded pension system second pension pillar are made as a fixed percentage of gross salary and allocated to individual pension investment accounts; starting from 2025, the contribution rate was reduced from 6% to 5%, with the difference reallocated to the first pension pillar solidarity system),
- market growth (8% for equity markets and 2% for bond markets throughout the projection horizon),
- salary growth (7% annually),
- fee changes (fees were reduced as IPAS VAIRO pension plans will be integrated into IPAS INDEXO plans, thereby lowering maximum fee income potential; the Bank of Latvia applies a fee tier system where maximum allowable fees decline as assets under management increase;

given that IPAS INDEXO manages significantly larger assets than IPAS VAIRO, the applicable fee level aligns with INDEXO's fee structure and is projected to reach the minimum regulatory fee cap of 0.25% in the long term),

- a 15% discount rate (managements internally determined required rate of return, consistent with the Group's weighted average cost of capital WACC, calculated using the standard WACC methodology incorporating the risk-free rate, beta coefficient, expected market return, Latvian equity risk premium, country risk premium and Latvian government risk premium).
